

East Midlands Ambulance Service NHS
NHS Trust

999 EMS
RESEARCH FORUM

The
University
Of Sheffield.

What's New in Emergency Pre-hospital Care Research?

Gathering evidence to: Improve Quality • Evaluate New Models of Care

One Day Conference

Organised by 999 EMS Research Forum in collaboration with:
University of Sheffield and the National Ambulance Research Steering group

Wednesday 26th November 2008 - 9.30 - 16.30
East Midlands Conference Centre • Nottingham

Paul Phillips - Chief Executive of East Midlands Ambulance Service will open the conference

Key Speakers:

Matthew Cooke - University of Warwick
Improving quality in pre-hospital care
Jeremy Dale - University of Warwick
Decision support in pre-hospital care
Suzanne Mason - University of Sheffield
National Evaluation of Emergency Care Practitioners

Peer reviewed oral presentations

Workshops:

Suzanne Mason & team
Workforce & organisational challenges of the ECP role
Tim Coats
Building pre-hospital care research for the future
Niro Siriwardena & Debbie Shaw
Statistical process control
Helen Snooks
Winning research funding: getting on the UKCRC portfolio

Call For Abstracts

Abstract submission deadline • 20th October 2008

The 999 EMS Research Forum is inviting submissions on research carried out in the field of 999 healthcare for oral or poster presentation at this year's conference. This year we are encouraging abstracts related to research about new models of care and roles including Emergency Care Practitioners. All abstracts will be anonymously peer-reviewed and judged on merit.

Prizes will be awarded for excellence:

- ZOLL Prize: Highest quality research
Funded opportunity to present at international conference in US or Australia
- JRCALC Prize: Research most likely to affect practice
- EMJ Prize: Best poster

For submission guidelines & to register Contact: Moira Morgan Tel: 01792 513432

Email: 999emsresearchforum@swansea.ac.uk or web: www.trustresearch.org.uk

Registration: £60

The conference is sponsored by the NIHR SDO and the Department of Health

